St. Johns, Newfoundland, May 27.—The House of Assembly met on Saturday for the purpose of passing a local coercion act, identical with the Imperial act, with the exception of a provision that it shall be enforced tion of a provision that it shall be enforced one year only. The provision is considered a blind. Morine, one of the delegates to London, protested against passing the Imperial act. He arrived on Wednesday on the Allan steamer from England, and made a long statement on Friday night before both houses of the Legislature with closed doors. The anti-coercion members protested against keeping the public out, but were outvoted. At the close of his speech Morine gave notice that he would introduce a coercion bill. The rules of the Assembly having been suspended, rules of the Assembly having been susper rules of the Assembly having been suspended, the bill was rushed through its first and second reading, and afterwards passed the committee stage. Morine, styling himself the leader of the opposition, was unable to get a single member of his party to follow him. Great indignation prevails at this reversal of policy by the delegates. Most of the mem-hers stayed away. Only fourteen voted for and five against coercion in the Assembly, out of thirty-six members. The position the people generally take is that if coercion measures be adopted the Imperial authori-ties should bear the expense and assume the ties should bear the expense and assume the responsibility and odium of cutting down the

The Daily Colonist, voicing public sentiment, says that the back-down is cowardly and contemptible, Newfoundland being scourged with scorpions and by masked executioners for the purpose of making her accept confederation.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.*

OTTAWA, Ontario, May 27.—A careful examination of the monthly statements of the imports and exports prepared by the customs department during the past ten months, and department during the past ten months, and a comparison with the corresponding period last year show where the failing off in imports, and the increase of exports have been brought about. The importation of woolens has failen off to the extent of $1,100,000; manufactures of iron and steel, $70,000; provisions, $700,000; silks, $400,000, and spirits, $100,000. There are some noticeable increases in exports. The products of the mine make a better showing than last year to the extent of $900,000; fisheries increased, $700,000; animals and their products, $700,000; animals and their products, $700,000; animals and their products, $700,000; manufactures, $450,000. # KAISER AND DUKE.

LUXEMBURG WANTS HER FORTIFICATIONS RE STORED—GERMAN AFFAIRS.

BERLIN, May 27.—The Grand Duke of Luxemburg is in correspondence with the Kaiser on the subject of restoring the fortifications of the Grand Ducky, which was dismantled before the Franco-Prussian war as the result of an agreement between France, Holland and Germany. The Grand Duke thinks now that the Grand Duchy has again a separate existence it ought to have the same rights as any other State of putting itself in a position for defense. As the relations between the Kaiser and the Grand Duke are already intimate, the fortifying of Luxemburg could not fail to excite great animosity in France.

COMPLAINING JOURNALISTS.

Berlin journalists are complaining that the authorities do not give an equal opportunity to all newsparers to be represented at public executions, and the notices sent to the press are deliberately inaccurate as to time, some favored papers, however, getting timely notice. It is also alleged that, while the headsman does his work with neatness and dispatch, there is a good deal of useless severity in the preliminaries. The present Kaiser is not using the pardoning power with much liberality, having signed nearly a score of death warrants since the beginning of the year. He gives, however, personal attention to petitions which his predecessors did not usually, leaving all such matters to the Minister of Justice.

LEAVING SWEDEN.

STOCKHOLM, May 77.—The Government of Sweden has ordered an inquiry as to conditions in parts of the country said to be almost denuded of young men by emigration to America. Young women of the domestic service are also very scarce and the wages demanded by servants have risen to double the figure of a few years ago. The supply of conscripts is running short and the burden of military service falls more heavily on those that remain. As the aged and crippled are generally left behind, while the young and strong of both sexes emigrate, the country in many places looks as if the effective population had been carried off by war, leaving only the physically worthless. Another fact that causes anxiety to the Swedish Government is the large proportion of the pure light-haired Swedes among the emigrants, this being the class skin to the North Germans and English that has heretofore upheld the country, both in war and in peace. Their places in Northern Sweden are largely taken by immigrant Fins and Lapps, who are akin to the Mongols. In Vermland, called the Oradle of the Swedes, the people are leaving in throngs and nearly every young person wants to emigrate. qualified it, however, as follows:

"I am willing to concede, as a friend of Dr. Briggs, that he has been strangely unfortunate in his expressions, has talked and written altogether too much, and while thoroughly opposed to dogmatism, has been one of the most dogmatic men in the world. I have told Dr. Briggs that every time he writes a book he ought to attach a glossary to it so that his readers can understand the sense in which he uses certain words. And so I attribute all of his trouble to that unfortunate, unfelicitious way that he has of writing things that are susceptible of a far different construction than he intended having placed upon them, and of saying and writing thing without exercising proper care.

And so I attribute all of his trouble to that unfortunate, unfellectious way that he has of writing things that are suscept thile of a far different construction than he intended having placed upon them, and of saying and writing thing without exercising proper care.

"If Dr. Hitchcock, President of the Union Seminary, had uttered the words that have caused such an onsiaught on Dr. Briggs they would never have caused a ripple. If the general Assembly condemns Dr. Briggs it is simply going to drive some of our brightest and best minds out of the Presbyterian Church, for, as I said in my sermon last Sunday, the question that is on the lips of thousands of young men who are on the threshold of the ministry, is: 'Can I retain my intellectual self-respect?' My own is lead is there is plenty of room for cerebration within the limits of Presbyterian principles. The great trouble is that Dr. Briggs, critics have fired at him from long range, and in many instances without understanding the facts in the matter at all. One distinguished minister wrote a three-column article attacking Dr. Briggs and afterwards admitted that he had not read Briggs' inaugural or even seen it.

"There is this about it all: They may crush Briggs, but they cannot crush the spirit he represents."

JESSE POMEROT TRIES TO ESCAPE.

BOSTON, Mass., ay 27.—Jesse Pomeroy, the notorious boy murderer, made one of his periodical escapes from his cell in the state prison Monday, and managed to get into the corridor before his plans were frustrated.

**TERMS OF COMPRITION.*

The terms of the competition are that the successful architect is to receive 2½ per cent commission, not to exceed $10,000, and $10 a day for his services when he shall be personally at the building. The second award is to be $1,000 and the third $1,000. All other architects who may be invited by the board to submit designs, will be paid $500. When the designs are all in and the board has selected the three which seem the most satisfactory, they will be submitted to an expert builder for his estimates of cost, and when he reports the final award will be made. That done, the contracts will be let, and as soon as possible the work will be begun. It is possible that the depot may be putting up the buildings, changing the tracks and removing from the present quarters is at tramendous that it may not be all done by that time. In fact, $1. A most general interest was manifested at this, the opening session, as manifested at this, the opening session, as there are several important matters coming up for consideration, including report of the Executive Committee, the members of which think there is a possibility of unification, but do not report upon any method by which such a thing could be accomplished. The President announced from the chair that the work of unification which was to be undertaken was a most vital one, and should meet with careful and considerate attention. The convention will last to-day, with a night session, and most probably all day to-morrow. The officers claim that all business will be completed to-morrow, but whether more than a morning session will be required is not known.

FRESIDENT RIEBENACK' ADDRESS.

M. Riebenack, Prasident of the association.

M. Riebenack, President of the association, made quite a lengthy address, in the course of which he said:

"Our third annual convention finds us in the full strength fof a vigorous or-ganization. It has passed its fant trials, and now stands prepared to ganization. It has passed to maint trials, and now stands prepared to prosecute its mission fearlessly and with confidence. Its increasing membership and the unabated interest felt in the great work of improving the accounting methods of the corporations controlling the transportation traffic of this continent is most encouraging, and the extent of its future usefulness is certainly beyond estimate.

Proceeding, the President gave a resume of the work of the association since its organization three years ago, and recommended that the Secretary be instructed to have printed a complete report of the work that has been done up to the present time.

Continuing, he said that the results of the labors at Cape May were fully as important as any of those which have followed, and briefly summarized the work that has been accomplished, saying that it has been established "that the delivery road should collect the full amount at the through rate shown on the manifest and account to each road in interest for its proportion." Proceeding on this question, the count to each road in interest for its propor-tion." Proceeding on this question, the speaker said: "Where weights cannot be ascertained in time for current settlements, the same shall be made at the manifest weight, and the excess or recess be adjusted necounted for up to and including the 10th of the following month. He recommended that standard blanks be adopted for reporting corrections to be made in coupon ticket sales and excessive baggage collections.

AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION.

Directly after the President's address the proposed amendments to the constitution were considered. Art. 9, which read:

other four members of this committee hold office for another year.

Mr. Riebenack does not aspire to again hold the position which he now occupies, but it is probable that Secretary Phillips will be reelected, although there are several aspirants who would like very much to take his place.

Mr. Riebenack will leave for home to night, not desiring to remain over to the conclusion of business, and the chair will be occupied by Vice-President Cushman Quarier to-morrow.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The report of the Executive Committee was read by Secretary Phillips. It stated that since the last convention of the association which was held at Cape May, the committee had held five meetings. These took place at New York, Louisville, Washington, D. C., three being held in the first mentioned city. It also gave a comprehensive history of the negotiations that had taken questing the committee that will be selected at this convention to continue such negotia-tions so as to lead to desirable results in the general interest of railroads.

TAXES AS FIXED CHARGES.

TAXES AS FIXED CHARGES.

A long discussion followed on the question as to whether taxes should be classified as a legitimate operating expense, or whether they should be treated as a fixed expense, and with other fixed charges be deducted from the results of operation to produce the net income. A rising vote was taken to ascertain how the roads represented classified the taxes. This showed that forty-eight roads did not include this expense in the legitimate operating expenses, while twenty-five answered that they did. In the discussion on this subject Mr. Waterman counseled caution. He spoke of the attitude of some of the Legislatures towards the rail-roads and attributed it to the fact that they did not understand railroading. His remark that "some Legislators would rather tax a railroad than eat," caused the Kansas and Nebraska railroad men present to smile.

Mr. Quarrier of the L. & N. spoke at some length in favor of leaving the matter of taxes an open question. This was put in the form of a motion after further debate and carried by a close vote. Other points suggested in the Executive Committee.

POLICE OFFICERS FIGHT.

It is not often that the public hear of a fight between police officers, but there was one to day at 2 o'clock between the vetbetween police officers, but there was one to day at 2 o'clock between the veteran Police Sergeant, John Shore, and Officer John B. Dixon, both doing duty in the Third Police District. The scene occurred at Broadway and Carr street, and the number of spectators who saw it are variously estimated at between 300 and 1,000. At all events there was considerable excitement, and one of the excited crowd was on the verge ringing up a patrol wagon. As near as can be learned Sergt. Shore gave some order to Officer Dixon which the latter declined to obey. The Sergeant reprimanded him and in return the officer poured a volley of insulting language at him. Sergt, Shore, who is known as a strict officer, considered this insubordination of an aggravated character and told Officer Dixon that he would have to go with him to the Captain's office. Officer Dixon did not take very well to this and resisted, and struck at the Sergeant, who dodged the blow. Later another officer appeared on the scene, and Officer Dixon walked over to the Third District Station and was suspended by Capt. Joyce, and will have to answer to a charge of insubordination at the next meeting of the Police Commissioners.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

According to the report of the Conference Committee it is hoped to so print the passenger tickets that every road will have a number, the same being stamped on the back of the ticket, as well as the number of the office disposing of the same. The object of this is to give the office disposing of the same. The object of this is to give the naking returns, having under the proposed new system only to enter the numbers which are stamped on the back. A sample of this is road, the issuing company being numbered 404, while the issuing ticket agent is known by the number 1,354.

This scheme greatly simplifies matters, and is presented by M. Riebenack, Chairman of the committee from this association which conferred with the Convention of the American Association of Passenger Agents which convened at Denver, Sept. 16, 1890.

The same committee think that the same settlement in matter of accounts should be made for prepaid orders as for tickets, which would include the issuing by the original shipper of a description of the order drawn upon the foreign road's agent, "including also the amount, if any, in cash, the delivery of which has been requested." The report also recommends that the orders be printed on safty paper with an enameled surface. The report says that the issuing of orders for cash in addition to tickets should be discountenanced and the person requesting the same to be directed to bouses or concerns which will transact such business, as otherwise con-tion to tickets should be discountenanced and the person requesting the same to be directed to houses or concerns which will transact such business, as otherwise confusion and trouble is created.

According to this report, which will most probably be adopted, the editor of the Official Resilvay Guide will be asked to assign a number to each railroad for use on tickets. The Conference Committee was composed of Messrs. M. Riebenack, chairman; A. Douglas, W. N. D. Winne, F. O. Waldo, and P. W. Cook, and their report came up for consideration this afternoon. It will be adopted without opposition.

'Crops in the Dakotas.

Huron, S. D., May 27.—Nine counties in North and twenty-three counties in South Dakota are mentioned in the crop builetin issued from the United States Signal Office in this city for the week ending May 28. These reports are quite encouraging. In nearly every county from light to heavy rains have fallen. Only a few counties report rain greatly needed, and none say crops are suffering for it. Wheat has made rapid progress, as has also barley and oats. The weather has been too cool for corn, but that is reported sprouted, and much of it is twe to three inches above ground. Flax is also in good condition, and potatoes are said to be doing nicely. There is less complaints of damage by cut worms than reported in the previous builetin.

Blood?

During the winter most people sleep in poorly ventilated rooms, and are confined in unhealthy shops, offices and stores during the day. The close confinement for months in impure air is one of the causes for the accumulation of impurities in the blood, which should be got rid of in the spring. This is readily accomplished by the aid of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has widely and firmly established itself as the best Spring Medicine and blood purifier. Be sure to get

THE M'ALLISTER DECISION.

The Supreme Court's decision in the case of Ward McAllister, Jr., is creating a great deal of talk here, because of a bearing it might have upon the now celebrated Sayward controversy. In the McAllister decision the Supreme Court declares the Alaska court not to be a court of the United States, but a Territorial court. It is admitted by the Department of Justice, however, that the decision does not carry with it the rest of the contention—that the Supreme Court has no jurisdiction over admiralty cases in that court.

After to-morrow and until the Council decides to come to an understanding with the Mayor over the appointee for the Insane Asylum that institution will be without a head. It is impossible now for the Council to approve any appointment until Friday and in the meantime the place will be without a head, as Dr. Atwood has resigned to go to Fulton, Mo. The Mayor's appointee, Dr. Kirby, is in the hands of a Council Commit-

Kirby, is in the hands of a Council Committee, which may not report for some time and make things very disagreeable in consequence. City Counselor Marshall was seen this morning and said that in his copinion the Mayor had no right to appoint in case of a vacancy, as such provision was not made in the Charter, and it was doubtful if the first assistant had sufficient authority to perform the duties of Superintendent.

Mayor Noonan was seen and asked:

"I will not do anything, as I have no authority, and the charter was so framed as to leave out provisions in cases of death and resignation, and all I have to do is to submit my appointment to the Council."

This being the situation it remains to be seen what the Council will do, as they have it in their power now to turn the Insane Asylum upside down, unless the Mayor sends in an appointment to suit them.

PREFARED TO EXPLETORS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 27.—The Nashville & Chattanooga Railroad has notified the Secretary of the Treasury that it is prepared to redeem June 1 500,000 of the bonds held by the Government, together with interest amounting to $10,000. During the war this road was improved and operated by the Government in the transportation of troops and supplies, and at the close of the war the Government relinquished control of the road and accepted $1,000,000 of the stock of the company with the understanding that it would be redeemed with interest in twenty years. The first payment of $500,000 was made June 1, 1881, and the next and final payment falls due June 1 next. The exchange of bonds for cash will be made at the New York Subtracts.

formerly Chairman of the Committee on City Lighting, in speaking to-day of the present mode of lighting the streets, said: "The evil mode of lighting the streets, said: "The evil of receiving and awarding bids for public work that are notoriously too low is shown in the manner in which the present contract for illuminating the city with are lights has hampered and embarrassed, the Board of Public improvements and the City Lighting Department. The cost to the city under the electric contracts is now fully 180,000 less than when the streets and public buildings were lighted by gas. Later on he instructed Supt. Johnson to discontinue sprinkling altogether. He also requested that regular reports be furnished him as to the increase or decrease of the supply. It is shown from these reports that the quantity of water taken from the pipes for sprinkling purposes did not in any way affect the supply at either of the institutions named. The fact is conclusively shown that the pipes in the district are too few and too amail to supply the city's wants and the constantly increasing use by manufacturers and others in the district west of Grand avenues and south of Shaw or Magnolia avenues. There are several thousand feet of pipe from the reservoir on Grand avenue to supply the district named and on these streets there are tweaty-one plugs from which water is drawn continually for all purposes. An ordinance is now pending which will furnish pipes of sufficient dimensions to supply that portion of the city for years to come.

The Grading of New Streets.

The Grading of New Streets. The Board of Public Improvements and the Street Department have nearly arrived at the eletermination to call a half on recommend-determination to call a halt on recommending appropriations for the grading of streets and alleys unless the petitions specify that the streets are to be fully improved upon the completion of the grading and reasonable assurances are given that the excess will be guaranteed for the construction of roadways and sidewalks. There are a number of large property owners who are constantly urging the grading of streets to be paid for out of municipal revenue who never want to expend a dollar for street improvements. They are opposed to paying the assessment allowed under the charter, and absolutely refuse to pay any excess that is shown when estimates are made in the Street Department. The board had recommended during the past year the grading of streets that will require an appropriation of over $100,000, and it seems about time to draw the line at the consideration of petitions for grading alone.

ST. LOUIS TIN PLATE.

Those who doubt the possibility of manufacturing tin plate in St. Louis at a profit under a tariff that raises the price 21-5 cents a pound over the cost of the imported article, can easily ascertain facts pay the St. Louis Stamping Co. to go into of political freaks. the business on a large scale.

The increased price of tin plate means in reased consumption of granite iron-ware and galvanized sheet-iron, and increased profit on the output of both. Therefore, it is not to be expected that the St. Louis Stamping Co. will devote any part of its present rolling mill plant to the production plates for tinning. It will make enough on an increased output of its former products to more than balance any possible loss it might incur by increasing its rolling mill capacity for the purpose of adding greatest popular victory on record. When to its former business the manufacture of tin-plate at present and prospective prices. And it is only by establishing the manufacture of tin-plate, as they promised, that the men engaged in the granite iron and galvanized iron business can hope to have the new tin-tax continued as an incidental benefit to their iron trade.

But aside from this incidental compensa tion which they derive from the new tintax, the St. Louis Stamping Co. have cheaper coal than the English tin-plate makers and, with cheap Southern pig-iron and steel hillets in easy reach, ought to be able to turn out tin plates at a cost not exceeding that of British tin-plate admitted free, but delivered here with transportation charges all the way from Wales added. A tariff subsidy in the shape of a 21-5 cents a pound tax on the consumption of tin-plate should therefore insure them a very handsome profit.

Nor is there any danger that competiti among American manufacturers will force them to charge less than the tariff enables them to extort from American consumers. They took good care to form the "Tinned-Plate Manufacturers' Association of the United States' before they manufactured any tin plate. That was the first step in the business, as it is in every tariff protected business. They will pocket all that the tariff allows them to demand for their product, and British competition will not be able to prevent them while the new tin tax remains and the present cost of iron, coal and labor remains unchanged in Wales and in the vicinity of St. Louis.

AN UNINTENTIONAL REFORMER.

Corporal TANNER is not a civil service reformer, but has a high partisan contempt for the men who are laboring for the adoption of the merit system in governmental employment, yet in a recent interview on the Pension Office he has put in a fine stroke for civil service reform.

In this interview he declares that the people; in other words it must get away pension bureau needs a cleansing, and until our jurisdiction. What would render it all it is cleansed no man can satisfactorily conduct its business. He says: "There is a good deal of dead timber there in the shape of at the public expense;" that "there are spies, conspirators, liars and worse to be found employed there;" that of the enormous sums paid for salaries in the office it is not known "how much goes into the pockets of incompetent clerks forced upon the Commissioner by political and social influence."

In drawing this graphic picture of the vicious results'of the spoils system, the Corporal's loose tongue is unintentionally employed in the service of reform. No severer indictment of that system could be drawn, and what is true of the Pension Office is true in greater or less degree of every department of the Government in which it freely operates. The remedy suggested by TANNER for these rotten conthe best Christian authorities as a means of ditions is to place the entire power of apgrace, but the Rev. Dr. HOLLAND of St. pointment in the hands of the Commis George's Church is a learned divine and sioner, but this would not clear the demay have found warrant for their use. partment of unworthy political and social There is no question of their effectiveness influences, and this remedy is discredited in ridding a church of discordant elements at the outset by the fact that the worst and maintaining the views of the best offenders in the Pension Office are Comsioner RAUM's own son and his particular friends. The logic of the facts leads inevitably to the utter condemnation of the spoils system as vicious at the core and the approval of the merit system as the only means of dinates.

THE committees at work raising the Fall Festivities Fund are growing prouder citizens. They find pervading the whole that St. Louis is entering upon a period of grander progress than any former generaher, and they say that the subscriptions to the fund are tendered with a liberality and readiness they were not counting on when they took up their task. This is as it should be, and every good citizen who lends a hand to lengthen the roll of honor is doing not only a patriotic thing but a profitable thing for himself.

Evading the Tariff on Pearl Buttons

From the Philadelphia Press.

The pearl button industry which was fos tered by the McKinley bill and has grown considerably in Philadelphia, is threatened with annihilation through what the manu facturers claim is an evasion of the tariff. Pearl buttons, which are completed all to having the holes punched in them and are 'blanks,' are now imported and the duty evaded. Drilling holes in the disks is all that is required to place them a comple button on the market. To do this would cost about 2 cents a gross. To illustrate it better buttons cost the manufacturers here $1.25 a gross, but the importers can sell the have been punched in them here, for 85 cent a gross.

THE BISHOP'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

At the afternoon session yesterday the reord of the Committee on Credentials was oad, showing a representation of twenty ine out of the fifty-four parishes in the dio cese into eastern and western districts, which occurred during the year. Several deaths of prominent churchmen, which took place during the year, were noted. He spoke very strongly on church extension and called attention to the fact that a debt of $15,000 still remained on St. Luke's Hospital in this city. Outside of St. Louis Bishop. Tuttle stated, there were but three churches in the diocese that were self-sustaining. The offerings, however, for home and foreign missions were large. There were 514 confirmations in the diocese during the year. He hoped the National Convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, which would be held in St. Louis next October, would receive the support and hearty welcome of every churchman in the city. A committee consisting of Rev. Wm. Short, Rev. P. G. Robert, Rev. F. B. Scheetz, Mr. T. K. Skinker and Mr. F. J. McMaster was appointed to consider the question of how long a parish could hold possession of two church sites. Under the rules of the Episcopal Church a new parish cannot be located within 500 yards of another church site. When a church decides to remove, therefore, it should dispose of the old site as soon as possible in order not to debar another parish to locate in the old quarters. This matter has never been legislated on before. This morning Mayor Jos. A. Shakespeare o New Orleans arrived in the city and regis-ered at the Southern. The reception at Bishop Tuttle's residence, 2727 Chestnut street, from 8 to 11 o'clock last night, was largely attended and a pleasant and enjoyable time was had. The parlors were decorated with flowers and Mrs. Tuttle assisted the Bishop in entertaining the guests. "They are quiet, quieter than they have been for years. The Church Society Still Claims Posses sion of the Property From Which It Is Barred Out-Truce Declared Until Legal Advice Is Secured-The Situation

It is probable that the trouble in St. George's Episcopal Church will end in a division and split of the congregation. This almost inevitable outcome of the bitterness that has been developed between the rector, Rev. R. A. Holland, and the Board of Directors of the St. George's Church Scalette. tors of the St. George's Church Society, since the burning of the church, is now accepted by many of St. George's now accepted by many of St. George's people as the only possible settlement of the unfortunate affair. It is stated that the controversy has gone too far into personalities, and become too completed in personal, confict, to admit of the slightest unity of action file. in the future, and that a division of interests is unavoidable. The occurrences of the past weekpare pointed to as proof of that fact. They are as follows:

THD WIDENING OF THE BREACH.

First, the resignation of two members of
St. George's Vestry owing to the wide difference of opinion relating to the moving of St.
George's Church further west.
Second, the attack made by Dr. Holland from the pulpit last Sunday upon three members of the church society, whose views were opposed to his on the subject of removal and also on other questions.

also on other questions.

Third, the placing of the "armed watch" in the chapel of the old church building, and the ejection of representation of St. George's Church Society, who sought to enter that place.

The latter action constitutes virtually the taking possession of the church property by the rector and his followers and legal advisers, and has, it is said, brought up certain points upon which legal advice will have to be taken before the church society can probe taken before the church society can proceed further in the matter.

The refusal of the rector's "armed watch" to allow Mr. Wm. Somerville to enter the chapel premises last Saturday night gives rise to an especially peculiar complication, it is claimed. Dr. Holland in his remarkable statement last Sunday drew the line between the two church factions as having the vestry and church officers on his side and the officers and directors of the St. George's Society on the opposing side. Yet Mr. Somerville, it is stated, was placed in the board of the church vestry, of which he is a member, and was placed in charge of the church property and building, as representing the interests of both those bodies. Still it was against Mr. Somerville that the bitterest part of Dr. Hol-

Still it was against Mr. Somerville that the butterest part of Dr. Holland's address to his congregation was directed last Monday, and against whom the rector seems to think he has the greatest grounds for complaint.

Dr. Holland alluded to Mr. Somerville's attempt to retain possession of the chapel and church property as follows:

He a summe to act a sector own, by tritue of his circle has the section of the church has no right to forbid his trespassing. Neither a communicant of the church nor a stockholder in the Church Society, except by a share credited him that he may hold his office, heyet assumes to act as rector over the rector and can invade premises which are yours by perpetual lease, to say nothing of rights of stock, and order your representatives off. ONE OF THE MEN WHO DID THE CIN-CINNATI DIAMOND TRICK.

How the Ohio City Detectives Tracked the Bold Thief and Identified Him at Jackson-What a Watch on McFadden's Place Revealed-A Notorious Criminal's Record.

Prentice Tiller, who is wanted in Cincinnati for having perpetrated a bold diamond robbery in that city last May, has been traced to the Jackson (Mich.) Pentientiary. Tiller's name is a familiar one in St. Louis. He name is a familiar one in St. Louis. He has a very interesting record. For a number of years he was a trusted clerk in the Southern Express office here. On March 1, 1882, he disappeared with $94,000 in cash and jewelry valued at $20,000. It was subsequently learned that he had taken a friend, George McFadden, into the plot. For two days they remained concealed in a room opposite the express company's office. Then they separated, McFadden going to Texas, and Tiller to the North. A few evenings later Tiller walked McFadden going to Texas, and Tiller to the North. A few evenings later Tiller walked into a Milwaukee hotel and dropping his valies, registered under a fictitious name.

As he picked up the valise it flew open, revealing the contents to an observing porter at his side. The receptacle was literally bulging with money. The robbery had made a great sensation throughout the country, and the little incident proved fatal to Tiller. The porter notified the police of what he had seen and Tiller was soon under arrest. He broke down and made a full confession, which led to the apprehension of McFadden a few days later. Both men were returned to St. Louis, and the trial resulted in each receiving a senmen were returned to St. boths, and the trial resulted in each receiving a sentence of five years. At that time Billy Burns was in prison for stealing a watch, and made Tiller's acquaintance within the walls. They were released about the same date, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, and started out on a thieving tour, which ended in Burns' "fall." In less than started out on a thieving tour, which ended in Burns' "fall." In less than three months after his escape to Cincinnati Tiller was caught while turning the Detroit trick. In looking up his record Detective Crawford learned that he had gone under the aliases of C. H. Pachen, Louis Payton, Parker, C. H. Prince, Clarence Prentice and C. H. Price.

THE DIAMOND ROBBERY.

The story of the Cincinnati diamond robbery is this: In May of last year two well-dressed men walked into Michie's jewelry store on Fourth street.

One asked to be shown some diamond rings, while the other remained standing carelessly years the door.

The salesman placed on the glass case a tray containing a number of fine diamond rings. Suddenly the supposed customer snatched the tray and boited the door. His companion let him out, and turning, clasped companion let him out, and turning, clasped the lock on the door, thus imprisoning the clerks in the store and gaining several the seconds for flight. The salesman had leaped over the counter and started after the thief. The boited door interrupted the pursuit, but his shouts quickly attracted a crowd to the scene. The second thief, or the man on the shouts quickly attracted a crowd to the scene. The second thief, or the man on the outside, had been delayed in locking the door and was captured after a short chase. He gave his name as Varney, but was soon identified as Billy Burns, a St. Louis there of some note. He had been sent up from this city to the Jefferson City Prison for stealing a watch. Like thieves generally do when caught "dead to rights," he began to talk and tried to make a deal with the authorities to lessen his punishment. Excepting two rings, which fell on the floor, the first thief got away with the entire tray, the contents being valued at fully $2,000. The boldness of the job stamped the operators as ness of the job stamped the operators as expert crooks, especially the one who made his escape. Burns could tell but little about his ''pal'' beyond that he had met him in the Missouri Penitentiary and was known as Clarence Prentice. Diligent search of the records failed to discover any well-known crook of that name or answering Prentice's

DIDN'T KNOW THEIR MAN. Price, or Tiller, is serving seven years for uttering forged orders for money. In July, 1890, or two menths after the Cincinnetts heft, 1890, or two menths after the Cincinnett heft, he walked into the office of a Berfolt merchant who had mailed a $140 check in payment of taxes. Price asked that it be changed to "bearer" instead of "order." The merchant refused and Price left. The merchant's suspicions were aroused and he hurried to the bank. He arrived just in time to see the teller pay Price the money. Price made a break for the door and was captured. made a break for the door and was captured. He had forged the indorsement of the tax

The Secret Service Department of the Government took up the matter, but all efforts for make Price reveal his second. the Government took up the matter, but all efforts to make Price reveal his secret failed. They then tried to solve his identity, as it was apparent he was no common crook, but in this they were also unsuccessful. Price was regarded as a mystery, and it was not until the detective's visit last Friday that the Michigan authorities knew who their prisoner really was. The Secret Service men have regarded Price as the originator of the band of mail box thieves who for the past year have depredated in the larger cities. The work showed the thefts were perpetrated by a systematic organization, as they occurred simultaneously in different parts of the country. The losses were far up in the thousands, and from their very nature were extremely annoying. The Secret Service Department has bent its energies in the effort to solve the mysterious robberies, but the

The most plausible theory was that the Government keys had been duplicated, as the thefts generally took place in broad daylight, and in tracing them up it was discovered that even the uniforms of the carriers had sometimes been worn by the operators. New York suffered especially, while the depredations were also extensive in Chicago and other Western cities.

Regarding Price as one of the band, if not its chief, the Secret Service detectives were very solicitous to find out all they could about the made for a warrant charging him with assembly to kill.

A BUNCO STEERER'S VICTIM. Sold Attempt to Swindle a Rich New York

New York, May 26.—The story of a slick bunco steerer and how he worked his game has just come to light in a threatened suit against Michael Grah, the brewer of this city. Grah went to Hot Springs, Ark., last March, and while walking about the hotel April 7 was approached by a well-dressed young man, who said his name was Frank Tiffany, that he knew all the New York brewers and was a schoolmate of Grah's son. He said he had received a request from young Grah for Hot Springs photographs, and if he (Grah, Sr.,) would call at his room he could have the photographs. The brewer gladly went to the room. A poker game followed. The old man drank something, and a few hours later he found himself holding up a lamp-post five blocks away. He had a dim recollection of signing something in the room, and immediately telegraphed his son to stop payment of all checks in New York. He took the next train himself, and arrived at the bank just in time to meet a messenger who had been sent by Frank Tiffany to cash a check for $2,272. The cashler had been instructed to refuse payment. and when the messenger appeared he

The republicanism of the future must readjust itself to the changed conditions of American life or it will perish. His Wealth in New York. New York, May 27.—Over $5,000 worth of silver bullion was lying in the gutter in front of a Broadway hotel last night. Finally it of a Broadway hotel last night. Finally it was picked up from the street in front of the Hoffman House by the fat porter of that establishment and put in a place of safety. The owner of the silver weighs considerably over two hundred pounds and his name is Phillips. He hails from Montana, where he is said to own the big silver mine that produced the silver builion. Mr. Phillips hired a cab and started out to visit the bar-rooms of the Broadway hotels. He wanted to find out which of them sold the best liquor. He lugged four silver bars, worth about fi,500 each, into the cab and began his sampling expedition at Forty-second street and worked down to Fourteenth street, where he was lost sight of. Every time he left the cab to go into one of the hotel bar rooms he would first take the silver bars from the cab and place them lengthways with each other in the street gutter.

"No-no-body 'll (hic) take them away," Mr. Phillip explained to the driver of the cab. Cabby tried to have Phillips allow the silver to remain in the cab, but he insisted that the precious metal would be safer in the gutter than in the cab. After repeating this experiment in front of the different Broadway hotels at which he stopped for refreshment he reached the Hoffman House and again put the silver in the gutter while he visited the art gallery. As Phillips had been a guest at this hotel the porter felt it incumbent upon him to remove the silver from the street to the hotel and have it locked it. He did so, and Phillips after protesting proceeded to visit other Broadway hotels. was picked up from the street in front of the Pennington's Airship.

Pennington's airship was on exhibition in the Music Hall of the Exposition Building yesterday evening and its workings were witnessed by a small but select crowd of business men and directors of the Exposi-tion. The ship did all the inventor claimed for it. It was a clear-shaped balloon, 24 feet long and 5 feet in diameter, with the two cloth rudders, one like the rudder of a ship to turn it and the other like the tail of a bird to raise or lower it. In front was a 5-foot cloth propeller, which was revolved by a small dynamo 1-32 of a horse power in strength and fed by a current from electric betteries, on the stores. strength and fed by a current from electric batteries on the stage. The ship sailed around one end and reversed, up near the roof, then quite low and then half way, and after the rudders were once fixed the balloon traveled automatically. It was declared a success by every one who saw it.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or ha stened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. The Chinese Herb and Vegetable Remedies are instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease toward the lungs, liver and kidneys.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 27.—The Cincinnati Association Club will probably be moved to Indianapolis within the next three or four Negotiations with the Association officers are in progress, and the proposi-tion to bring the club to this city was yesterday considered by the directors of the Commercial Club, with the result that a committee was appointed to go to Cincinnati next Monday to confer with the Association officers regarding the matter. A. J. Treat is

'It is simply another National League falsebood started for the purpose of injuring the American Association. There is not the most remote chance of the Cincinnati team of the Association being removed to Indianapolis. Treat and his friends are acting for Brush, the president of the National League Club at Cincinnati, and their object is to convey the impression to the public that the Association meeting called for June 2—next Wednesday—at Cincinnati is for the purpose of considering the advisability of removing the Cincinnati team to Indianapolis. Now, the object of that meeting is simply to consider the advisability of lengthening the present schedule of the Association so that the championship season Association so that the championship season will last until near the close of October. This is to be done because there is no prospect of the League playing a series of games with us at the close of the season and we want to utilize the services of the players for the titilize the services of the players of the entire time they are under contract. The League people are trying to direct attention away from their own weakness in Cincinnatiby their misrepresentations concerning our club .here. When one of the Cincinnati clubs leaves for Indianapolis i will be the National League team and not the Association representative. The League placed Brush of Indianapolis at the head of their Cincinnati Club, so that it could be moved to Indianapolis when found necessary. Their attempts to force us to leave will prove unavailing. There is no club in the Associa-tion with better backing than Cincinnati. All of the other seven clubs were interested in it, and the $7,000 worth of stock held in Cincinnati is distributed in small amount among representative business men of tha city. This stock was all subscribed by Cincinnati men with an express understanding and agreement that the team should remain in that city for at least one year. All our stockholders are liable for double the amount of their stock, as we incorporated under the laws of Ohio, which holds stockholders responsible for a double assessment. The National League team incorporated under th laws of Kentucky to avoid this, so it will be seen which club is the more shaky about being able to stick. Even the Associated Press, which does everything it can to injure us in Cincinnati, and color things in favor of th League, admits that we have been outdrawing the League there. Yet our crowds are al-ways stated in their reports at much less than they actually are, and the League attendance

The Washingtons close their series a Sportsman's Park, Friday next.

With Columbus knocking down Baltimore and Mike Kelly throwing the harpoon into Boston, the Browns via Washington will soon be within hailing distance of first piace.

Capt. Comiskey was personally honored or the Browns' Eastern trip. The "Cap" is a great favorite all along the line. YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

It required ten innings to decide the contest at Sportsman's Park yesterday between St. Louis and Washington, and the Browns finally won by a score of 8 to 2. A safe hit won the game, as it enabled Fuller, who had reached second on a base on balls and put out, to score. Willie McGill pitched for 8t. Louis and did well. Up to the seventh inning but one hit was made off him. In that inning the visitors secured three more and the box was retired, Stivetts taking his place. The Washingtons could not touch the latter's pitching. Carsey and Lohman were the visitors' battery. Boyle caught for St. Louis. The Browns secured 9 hits off Carsey, Errors: St. Louis, 3; Washington, 2.

TO-MORROW'S GAME. The third and next to last championship game between the St. Louis Browns and the Washingtons will take place to-morrow afternoon at Sportsman's Park. The Washingtons have by react, of their recent acquisitions been materially strengthened and under Manager Snyder's practical base ball management are steadily improving in their work as the season advances. The Association has not the slightest intention of removing its club from Cincinnati, and could not do so if it wanted to, so that you can see what basis there is for that League falsehood."

Millie McGill, the youngest of professional pitchers, has a well-chosen stock of railroad curves, sarcastic inshoots and speedy straights, which he uses with a good deal of success.

There will be railroad excursions to St. Louis on a good many of the roads on Decoration Day. The majority of the excursionists will come in town to see the great 4th-letics of Philadelphia make their inaugural dash against the Browns at Sportsman's process.

Wherever a university picks its cricketers, ball players, or tennis team, it is depending more and more on the robust and hardened men in the professional departments to recruit its crew. London, May 27.—The great classical event of the English turf was run to-day at Epsom. It was the second day of the Epsom spring meeting and the race for the Derby stakes was, of course, the great event of the day The event, which is the most celebrated re in the world, is for 3-year-olds and is for stakes of £5,000 for the winner, £300 for the nominator of the winner, £300 for the owner of the second horse and £300 for the owner of the third. Distance, about one and one-half miles. Distance, about on the half miles.

As usual, the course was crowded with all classes and conditions of people, from members of the highest aristocracy to tipsters and hangers on of the stables. The road from London to the course was filled with vehicles of every description. Dashing along with jangling harnesses came splendid four inhands, the coaches filled with handsomely diressed women and their escorts. There, too, were many vehicles of a by-gone age, whose motive power had long ago outlived the period of usefulness. Much badinage was indulged in by the occupants of the vehicles, and all were happy, for they were soon to see decided the race of all races, the great Derby, in which every Englishmen, no matter in what part of the world he may be, feels ter in what part of the world he may be, feels

WALLACE ENJOINED.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Owners of trotting New York, May 27.—Owners of trotting horses throughout the country will be interested in learning that Judge Ingraham of the Supreme Court yesterday issued an injunction restraining John H. Wallace, individually and as President of the Wallace, individually and as President of the Wallace Trotting Register Co., from transferring the property of that company to the American Trotting Register Co. of Illinois. This opens up a fight in which everybody who is interested in trotting and breeding of trotting horses is more or less concerned.

The injunction granted will be argued Thursday. Mr. Wallace says he will not oppose it, but he has telegraphed to President Allen of the American Association and that organization may come in as a party to oppose

THE OAR.

There is a subject for interesting study in the make-up of the principal college crews which are to contest this summer in the comparative weights which the boats will carry and the relative ages of the oarsmen, says an Eastern exchange. Undoubtedly the two great races of the year in college circles will be that between Yale and Harvard at New London and that between Columbia, Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania at the same place. The order in the boat, age and weight of these five crews are as follows:
